

YOUR COUNTRY NEEDS YOU!

This is not a book that will be popular at Westminster!

Mark Harland launches his controversial debut novel at the Scarborough Literary Festival on Thursday April 17th.

This is political satire at its very best – witty and wicked! With an unexpected twist in the tale, and hidden agendas throughout, MV Harland keeps his readers enthralled.

Sleaze, corruption and conceit have been the hallmarks of successive Governments. Convinced that ordinary citizens, selected at random, can run the world's fourth biggest economy just as effectively, the Queen abolishes Parliament as we know it!

Can a hundred and two (one for each County) men and women 'good and true' possibly do any worse than the overpaid and over-rated career politicians they replace?

The plot follows the action of a National Draw and the subsequent life of the new Parliament. Has the Queen made a huge mistake? Could it work in reality? How would you react if your country needed YOU?
